Steinman Asks Army Approval of Bridge To Meet Present and Anticipated Needs

Scharp Bid Lowest on Center Job

Pearl Street Plumber Is Awarded Contract on Heating, Showers for $3,500 Figure

Central Sewer Other Matters Discussed at Monday Meeting of B.P.W.

Fred J. Scharp of 245 Pearl street, whose bid was lowest of four proposals received, was awarded the contract for plumbing work at the city recreation center, 27 Broadway, by the Board of Public Works commissioners in executive session Monday afternoon, it was announced by Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, president of the board.

Scharp's bid, which includes the work of installing a new heating system and new showers, was "about $3,500," the mayor said. Other bids ranged from that figure to about $7,000, he said.

Mayor Newkirk said the work of renovating the interior of the building is now proceeding rapidly, and he expects the building will be ready for use before the end of this year.

Reconstruction of the recreation center, to cost an estimated $12,000, was authorized by the Common Council in July after recommendation had been made by the Board of Public Works. Repairs authorized included the plumbing work, a new floor on the basketball court, and painting of the interior.

The commissioners in their regular session earlier Monday authorized City Engineer Arthur F. Hallinan to make an investigation into the need and estimated expense of constructing a sewer line under Cornell street from TenBroeck avenue to Foxhall avenue.

In a preliminary report submitted by Hallinan, he pointed out that Drainage District 4-C, in the Second Ward is becoming increasingly impervious, meaning that, because of the large number of industrial buildings located there, there is not sufficient grass area to seep up rainfall.

This condition, he said, has led to overcharging, or overloading, in the drainage system north of Cornell street, and in the TenBroeck avenue storm sewer. He said that this condition may lead to deterioration of this system, which has an approximate value of $150,000. He further pointed out that unless the water runoff problem is solved, the area will lose its value as a prospective location for additional industry.

The area to which he referred is that in the central portion of the city in which is now being constructed the two new bowling alley buildings and an addition to the factory of the Barclay Knitting Company.

Hallinan recommended solution was the construction of approximately 600 feet of 33 inch reinforced concrete pipe to divert the runoff from the TenBroeck street area.

Would End Crisis Schuman to Ask French Assembly to Make Him Premier

Paris, Aug. 31 (AP)—Robert Schuman will ask the National Assembly today to reinstate him as premier of France. He agreed last night to try and form a new cabinet and so end the latest French political crisis.

The tall, craggy faced leader of the Popular Republican party expressed confidence he would get the 311 votes he needs when the 420 deputies get down to voting this afternoon.

Schuman headed the government for eight months until last July 10 when he resigned in the face of defeat on a bill before the assembly. During his tenure, he hammered down a violent wave of strikes which all but wrecked France. The Communists hate him vehemently.

The current crisis popped up Sunday when Premier Andre Marie and his coalition cabinet quit in a dispute over economic policies.

Eggs and Tomatoes Greet Wallace

Hand upraised for silence, Henry Wallace, Progressive Party presidential nominee, tries to speak on Main street, Burlington, N. C. Crowd of between two and three thousand anti-Wallacites heckled him until he gave up. The street is splattered with eggs and tomatoes thrown at him. (AP Wirephoto)

28 Stricken by Bad Water in One Bungalow Colony

Board of Health Makes Report of Its Checks Around the County During Month

During the month of July there were two outbreaks of gastroenteritis and sore throat of a severe nature in the county and seven other minor outbreaks which were investigated by the Ulster County Health Department.

One of the outbreaks of gastroenteritis and sore throat occurred at a bungalow colony in the town of Rochester where 28 persons out of a total census of 120 became ill over a period of 25 days. The water supply from springs was irregularly chlorinated and carbonated water used for making sodas, etc., was found to be highly polluted. The water condition was blamed for the outbreak.

A second outbreak of sore throat was in a children's camp in the town of Olive. Here 20 persons out of 107 were stricken in three weeks. Water and milk supplies were found good and this outbreak was apparently of contact origin.

In the monthly report of the County Health Department 57 cases of measles are reported for July, a decrease over the previous epidemic month from 164 indicating that the epidemic of measles is over.

One Killed, Two Hurt In Windham Auto Crash

Windham, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—Robert Moore, 14, of 13717 107th street, Corona, was killed last night when an automobile in which he was riding struck a concrete abutment.

Two other persons were injured in the accident, which occurred at Soper's bridge over Batavia kill at the intersection of Routes 296 and 223.

They were Donald F. Finch, 22, of Windham, the driver, and Michael W. Cooke, 13, of Jersey City, N. J., a passenger.

Ulster County Coroner M. H. Atkinson ruled Moore's death was "accidental."

Stopped Entirely From Speaking and Splashed With Debris at Burlington

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 31 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, his southern campaign trail splashed with raw eggs and ripe tomatoes, marched on today toward more segregation troubles. "We shall go on," Wallace said through a staff member who reported the Progressive Party presidential nominee's determination to continue his tour of the South.

Charlotte and Asheville were the major points on the schedule today—his third day in this state—with stop at a number of small cities on route.

Charlotte's police chief, Frank N. Littlejohn, promised jail for anyone who threw anything at Wallace here during his speech from the courthouse steps.

Although determined to continue, Wallace displayed anger and disappointment yesterday as he was pelted with eggs and tomatoes and prevented by boys and adults from delivering his messages.

Stopped entirely from speaking and splashed with debris at Burlington, Wallace grasped a bystander by the arm as he turned to his car.

"Get your hands off me," the unidentified man growled and gave the candidate a slight push.

Again at Greensboro, his clothes stained with egg yolk and a shell striking to his head, Wallace cried:

"I don't mind being hit by eggs and tomatoes, but they would be more useful being fed to children."

"The faces I have seen distorted by hatred are of people for whom I have in my heart profound compassion, because most of them have not enough to eat."

City Registers 169 In Draft; County Total Unavailable

25-Year-Olds Are Signing Today and Tomorrow; More Registrars Are Needed

The Kingston draft board registered 169 draft age youths during the first scheduled registration day Monday, it was announced today by Chief Clerk Walter E. Dutcher. Reports from county registration, which are mailed at the close of the day from each town clerk's office, had not been received and compiled this morning and it is not known how many county residents signed up on the first day, he said.

Volunteer registrars who served Monday at the local office were Mrs. G. D. Logan, Mrs. Joseph E. DeVeau and Raymond Lown. They were assisted by Dr. Joseph H. Rosenberg, chairman, and William H. Grogan, members of Draft Board 18, and by Chief Clerk Dutcher.

A list of available volunteer workers has been obtained from the secretary of Court Santa-Maria No. 164, Catholic Daughters of America, and another list is being prepared by the ladies auxiliary of Kingston Lodge 550, B.P.O.E., Dutcher said. Additional registrars are still needed.

Registration at the local and county draft boards continued today, with persons born in the year 1923 scheduled to report either today or tomorrow between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m. On Thursday or Friday of this week persons born in the year 1924 are scheduled to appear for registration, and on Saturday or Tuesday of next week those born in 1925 must register. The offices will be closed on Labor Day, September 6. Registration of those in the younger groups will continue through the following two weeks. Those reaching their 18th birthday after September 18 are required to register within five days after their birthday.

Plum Killed in Fall At Newspaper Plant

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 31 (AP)—David B. Plum, publisher of the Record newspapers, was killed today in a fall at the newspaper plant.

Plum was inspecting an addition to the building when he fell 20 feet from the second floor into a pit where a new press is to be installed. He was pronounced dead by a physician.

Dwight Marvin, editor of the Record Newspapers, said Plum probably suffered an attack of vertigo made a misstep. Plum was on his daily tour of the plant when the fatality occurred.

Ulster Farmers Vote Against Extending Time of County Fair

After lengthy discussion the directors of the Ulster County Agricultural Society voted to hold another one-day County Fair and Farmers' Day next year. President I. C. Barnes presided at the meeting held at the Farm Bureau Office last night with fourteen of the eighteen directors present.

Many arguments both for and against the possibility of extending the fair were presented. The lack of adequate shelter which can be securely locked overnight seemed to be the chief drawback to prolonging the fair. Tents and the pavilion without secure side curtains would not be sufficient protection for many of the valuable articles. Getting the livestock to the fair on time and completing doing all the judging, and allowing more the exhibits time for visitors to see the fair were among the important reasons advanced in favor of extension.

The possibility of having a night fair was promptly ruled out because of the extensive wiring system which would be needed to illuminate the widespread exhibits.

Storms Effects Will Be Felt in New York Tomorrow With Wind and Rain

Hatteras, N. C., Aug. 31 (AP)—A tropical hurricane moving up the Atlantic coast will miss the mainland entirely if it keeps its present course, the U. S. Weather Bureau said today.

The bureau warned, however, that strong winds would be felt along the coast tonight.

The velocity here increased to 30 miles an hour at mid-morning. The forecast for Maryland and Delaware called for strong northeast winds late this afternoon and tonight, and fresh northeast winds along the New Jersey coast.

The Weather Bureau said the storm is "apparently recurring slowly and is moving north-northeastward," which would be away from land.

This battered down area, however, was still endangered by steadily mounting winds and pounding seas as it caught the edge of the hurricane.

At 4 a. m. (E.S.T.) advisory from Miami centered the storm at approximately 140 miles south-southeast of Cape Hatteras, advancing at about eight to 10 miles per hour.

Intensity of winds near the hurricane's center was estimated at 115 miles per hour and covering an area with a radius of 50 to 60 miles. Gales extended over a radius of about 140 miles, the bureau advised.

The Coast Guard reported heavy seas rolling in from the ocean from Morehead City northward along the many miles of outer banks, the vast chain of island dunes that fashion North Carolina's coastline.

The Red Cross established facilities at Morehead City and neighboring Beaufort in preparation for the blow. The Coast Guard made a house to house canvass of nearby Atlantic Beach warning vacationists and summer residents to evacuate to safer ground but many remained at the beach preferring to ride out the storm.

Hundreds of armed forces planes were down inland from Carolina, Virginia and Washington basins to escape the danger of the hurricane.

A naval aviator who chased the hurricane yesterday described its center as "a black, stovepipe affair, extending approximately 25,000 feet high." The report was made by Lt. Comdr. J. A. Guida, meteorologist on a four engine navy bomber.

In New York Tomorrow New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The U. S. Weather Bureau said today that the New Jersey coast and the New York city area were unlikely to be hit severely by the Atlantic storm now veering toward sea.

The storm's effects probably will be felt locally tomorrow with winds up to 35 miles an hour, northeast to north and with showers, the bureau said.

Meanwhile, the bureau said moderate to fresh winds were expected to keep today's temperatures to an 80 degree high. The mercury is expected to drop to about 65 tonight.

Alleged Spy Boss Summoned

J. V. Peters, alleged former boss of the Russian underground in the U.S., laughs merrily after being served with subpoena. He was ordered to appear before a subcommittee of the House Un-American Activities Committee. The subpoena was handed to Peters by Stephen Birmingham (standing) as he appeared for a deportation hearing at the U.S. Immigration Service. Peters' counsel sought unsuccessfully to block the hearing on the ground that it was a subterfuge for the purpose of putting Peters in a position where he would have to accept the subpoena. #### Kingston Schools To Open Tuesday Morning, Sept 7th

Guidance Office Ready to Offer Directions on Courses in High School

Public schools in the city of Kingston will open on Tuesday morning, September 7, at 8:30 o'clock. All students are urged to register on the opening date.

Clarence Dunn, principal of the high school, and Clifford L. Rall, principal of the Myron J. Michael School, will be in their offices from 9 to 4 p. m. each day this week for the purpose of interviewing parents or students.

The Guidance office in the high school is open and Mr. Tobin and Mr. Bruckert will be glad to interview students regarding any proposed schedule changes, etc. All changes in schedule must be completed before school opens on September 7.

Kindergartens will again be in operation in all elementary schools, except No. 1 School. Children who wish to enter kindergarten must have reached the age of 4 years 6 months on or before September 7. Children entering first grade must have reached the age of 5 years and 6 months on or before September 7. Parents are urged to have all children who are eligible for kindergarten to register in the kindergarten, because in 1949 no children will be permitted to enter first grade unless they have had kindergarten. The only exception will be children living in No. 1 School District.

Children entering kindergarten and first grade for the first time are required to present certificate showing date of birth. This certificate may be either a birth certificate, baptismal certificate, Bible record, or some other legal evidence.

Refusal to Answer Key Questions Balks Attempts to Fill Gaps on Spying

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—A threat of congressional contempt action hung today over the mysterious "J. Peters" for his refusal to answer key questions of a House subcommittee. Peters was identified by ex-Communist Whitaker Chambers as the No. 1 man in the Communist underground in this country.

The House Un-American Activities Sub-Committee recommended yesterday after he refused on constitutional grounds to tell the probes what they wanted to know.

"The witness is the first to be threatened with contempt for refusing to answer questions in the House committee's by hearings. A dozen or more witnesses, refusing to say whether or not they were Communists, have cited that section of the constitution which says a man can't be forced to testify against himself.

When the hearings shifted here yesterday to Washington, Peters refused to answer questions about Communists.

Peters was summoned before the committee after Chambers, an admitted former Communist and now an editor of Time Magazine, named him as "director of an underground spy apparatus" which operated in the United States since the first grade must have reached the age of 5 years and 6 months on or before September 7. Parents are urged to have all children who are eligible for kindergarten to register in the kindergarten, because in 1949 no children will be permitted to enter first grade unless they have had kindergarten. Plans Call for Structure of Strength, Beauty Linking 8 Highways

There was intense interest at the public hearing in the Ulster county court house this afternoon when Dr. D. B. Steinman asked the War Department's approval of the proposed $14,000,000 bridge over the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff, a modern three-lane span that is designed to link eight major highways.

Dr. Steinman, recipient of U. S. and international awards for bridge construction, and who is consulting engineer for the New York State Bridge Authority, anticipates completion of the traffic arch by 1952 if the project receives the approval needed and construction moves according to schedule.

Today's session held for official presentation of data on the bridge to the War Department, which must pass on the plans and specifications, also site, as regards navigation, was attended by individuals acting in official capacity on the construction of the bridge and representatives of municipalities and organizations concerned with promoting the project in the interest of the motoring public and this area of New York state.

Wicks at Hearing Among those who attended the hearing was Senator Arthur H. Wicks, who with Assemblyman Hatfield of Dutchess county, introduced the original legislation under which funds for the preliminary surveys were appropriated and the author of the bill which Governor Dewey signed authorizing the construction of a bridge between Ulster and Dutchess counties.

Also attending were members of the Bridge Authority, James F. Loughran of Kingston, Neal Brantow of West Coxsack, George Pratt of Highland, Robert Roe of Poughkeepsie and Dr. John L. Edwards of Hudson.

Representing the Kingston Chamber of Commerce was Secretary Albert Kurdt, who headed a group of directors, and Walter Adams, chairman of the Chamber's Traffic and Transportation Committee, who acted as spokesman. Adams filed with the War Department the statement of the

Four Military Governors Meet Today in Effort on Agreement

Berlin, Aug. 31 (AP)—The four military governors of Germany will meet today for the first time in five months in an effort to bring an east-west agreement out of the month-long negotiations of western representatives at Moscow.

A special French envoy from Moscow will present directives as a result of the discussions there. These may form a basis of an agreement to end the crisis in this blocked city.

The directives will center around the question of using the Soviet-controlled east German currency in Berlin as the only money for the four-power city, circulating under four-power supervision.

This is the technical question upon which the Russians began a land blockade of the city more than two months ago, isolating the western occupying powers, except by air.

On a bigger issue, the Soviets also sought a new Big Four foreign ministers conference on Germany. But the west refused such a conference under the "duress" of a Berlin blockade.

Four weeks of negotiations in Moscow thus far have failed to iron out a satisfactory (and face saving) device by which the west might agree to a conference and the Russians to lift their blockade.

Woodstock Agog Over Burning of Cross Near Bird's

Progressive Youth Group Will Petition Dewey to Put an End to 'Form of Violence'

Woodstock, Aug. 30—Those involved in the cross burning episode which took place about 70 yards from the home of Howard Bird on Friday evening while a meeting of the Progressive Youth was in progress may have overstepped themselves, since it caused sufficient indignation on the part of hundreds of Woodstock residents and visitors to warrant a resolution being adopted at the close of the Woodstock Art Conference on Sunday afternoon. The resolution will be sent to Governor Dewey and will request immediate action to put an end to what was termed by these hundreds from all over the United States to be a "form of violence."

The cross burning took place at about 10 o'clock while 100 young people were assembled in the Bird home for a Wallace rally. The speakers on this occasion were Anne Kennedy of Saugerties, candidate for assemblywoman, and Dr. Ralph Wickheiser, summer resident of Woodstock and art director of Louisiana State University. Sam Kaner, monitor at the Art Students League, was chairman of the meeting. It was learned that while many attending this session were residents of New York city attending the Art Students League, there were many of the well known younger Woodstock set present.

Sent Best Wishes In the resolution which was unanimously adopted at the art conference, it was pointed out that Governor Dewey could be expected to take action in this matter particularly in view of the fact that he had been invited to attend the conference and who in sending his regrets had offered his best wishes for the success of this cultural project.

Following the burning of the cross on Friday evening, the young people drew up a petition which read, "We, the undersigned wish to protest the burning of a cross at an open democratic youth party sponsored by the Progressive Youth of Woodstock. The group feels that some definite action should be taken by the authorities in order to prevent future similar demonstrations. We welcome opposition that is above board and which is presented in the normal channels consistent with American tradition."

The petition of the young people was signed by a great number of those attending the meeting. Howard Bird, president of the

New National Boy Scout Leaders

Elbert K. Fretwell
Chief Scout

Arthur A. Schuck
Chief Scout Executive

Dr. Elbert K. Fretwell, active as a Scout Leader over 30 years, is now Chief Scout of the Boy Scouts of America. Chief Scout Executive from Feb. 1, 1943 until his recent elevation, he is succeeded in this highest administrative post by Arthur A. Schuck, a volunteer and professional leader in Scouting over 35 years. Dr. Fretwell succeeds the late Dr. James E. West as Chief Scout.

Woodstock Wallace Club was not at home during the meeting but stated to a reporter later that the people behind this vile sort of thing do not scare anybody. They just make us fight harder and make more and more people want to vote for Wallace. This does Woodstock no good whatsoever and as a matter of fact it is very bad for the community because people will neither want to visit nor live in a community where such things are permitted to go on. Almost overnight since the cross burning, we have received letters and telephone calls from many residents stating that they had no idea of voting for Wallace but they were so disgusted with the current and past cross burning episodes that they had decided to vote Wallace as a protest.

Although it is understood an investigation was requested in the cross and hammer and sickle burnings that took place during the winter months in Woodstock, no information has been available on this score.

The cross burned Friday evening was constructed of pipe and covered with burlap saturated with kerosene.

SAUGERTIES

Saugerties, Aug. 30—Registration for local young men eligible for the U. S. Army draft started today at the town building on Russell street.

If your child is entering first grade or kindergarten for the first time in Saugerties you are urged to bring the child to the school Wednesday or Thursday of this week between 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon and 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m. or on Friday September 13, 9:30 to 12. Miss May Evans, the grade supervisor will be at her office. Birth certificates must be shown. Following the rules will greatly reduce the confusion on entrance on the first day.

Miss Pauline Porter of Jane street underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Kingston Hospital last Tuesday.

Mrs. Martin Cantine has returned to her home on Main street from the Bonesteel Sanitarium where she has been quite ill.

The Layton ambulance conveyed Lawrence Dubie from the home of Clinton Van Buskirk on Partition street to the Bonesteel Sanitarium where it was found that he suffered a stroke.

Electricity for Mending Electricity has dipped into the sewing basket to simplify mending tasks. Now available is a darning aid, with flashlight inside, that accentuates every thin or broken thread.

Pitching Horseshoes

By Billy Rose

The Metropolitan Opera Association is run by a board of 37 directors, most of whose names can be found in The Social Register. With the possible exception of two or three, they have nothing to contribute to good music, and if they want to do what's right by grand opera, they will hold one last meeting and fire themselves.

The more I check into the way they run our Opera House, the more convinced I am that the Met will be in trouble as long as it's bossed by this unwieldy gang of lifted-pinkie entrepreneurs. From every angle, artistic and financial, they shape up as inept and unimaginative. Under their egotistic and butterfingers, the quality of Met performances in recent years has been small spuds compared to what it was in the days of Gatti Casazza and Toscanini. Under their bumble-headed financial guidance, a form of entertainment which constantly sells out chalked up a $220,000 deficit last year.

Tough words? Yes. But it's my hunch they'll shock no one but the Board. Everybody who can spell "cat" has long realized that letting Belmont, Bliss, Colt, Dillon, Reed, Whitney, Winthrop et al., boss our most complicated entertainment venture is as dally as letting Harpo Marx run U. S. Steel.

In the old days, there was some point in having socialites and bankers on the Board. Otto Kahn and his contemporaries were honest amateurs who were willing to pay for the privilege of making the Met their hobby, and when deficit time rolled around, they would unshackle their Watermans and do their stuff. But today's directors have shown little facility with the fountain pen. When the red ink starts to flow, they hold a hurried consultation, guffeet in the direction of La Scala, and issue statements about the impossible demands of labor.

Grand opera, like all forms of show business, is a highly technical game that calls for training and talent. And almost every time a non-pro has tried to crash the entertainment field, he has wound up with his head under his arm. Some years back, the lads at the Chase National Bank thought they could run the Fox Film Company better than professional showmen. They poured many millions into this flicker factory, but all they succeeded in doing was to make it the joke of the industry. It was only when Joe Schenck and Darryl Zanuck took over that it climbed out of the red and began coining money like the Chinese mint.

If the unlikely happens and the present Board resigns, have I any suggestions for a new Board, and what kind of people would I like to see on it? Well, if I may answer the second question first, I think the new Board should consist only of experts whose know-how in a particular field would help make Opera the going concern that it isn't. And to answer the first question second, here are my suggestions for a Board to run the Metropolitan:

Music—Arturo Toscanini.
Finances—Bernard M. Baruch.
Labor relations—Anna Rosenberg.
Policy consultants—Virgil Thompson, Olin Downs, Deems Taylor.
Producing consultants—Boris Goldovsky, Lazzlo Halsey, Vladimir Rosing.

(And the following theatre people to stand by and advise the opera experts on specific problems relating to present-day stagecraft.)
Lights—Hazzard Short, John Murray Anderson, Leonidoff.
Scenery—Robert Edmund Jones, Herman Rosse, Joe Mielziner.
Stage direction—Jose Ferrer, Joshua Logan, Elia Kazan, Ruben Mamoulian.

Choreography—Agnes DeMille, Jerome Robbins, Anthony Tudor.
Costume—Raoul Pene du Bois, Irene Sharoff.
Radio and television—Norman Corwin.
Showmanship—Oscar Hammerstein, Richard Rodgers, Herbert Fields.

That would give us a Board of 28 and leave nine chairs unoccupied. Until we were well in the black, eight of these could be reserved for the society boys whose wives like to brag that hubby is connected with the Met. The charge per seat should be $100,000 a season—provided the occupant kept his yap shut. If he sounded off, it should cost him an extra ten grand per hundred words.

Who would sit in the 37th chair? Well, you don't expect me to stand up all day, do you?

Fish by the Car Load
Milford, Conn., Aug. 30 (AP)—Thousands of flat fish, fleeing their Long Island sound habitat for some unexplained reason, came onto the beach during the night in the Woodmont section of Milford. Bathers first noticed the peculiar invasion about 5 p. m. (E.S.T.) yesterday, and even after midnight flashlights winked along the beach as people scooped up the fish in their hands. One witness said the fish "came in by the car load," "dopping around in eel grass and on the rocks in shallow water near shore."

Excavations at Pompeii were started about 1748 and the city has been about half dug out of the volcanic debris that destroyed it in 79 A. D.

On Light Cruiser

Anthony R. Fabbie, storekeeper, second class, U.S.N., son of Anthony Fabbie of 193 Clifton avenue, is serving aboard the light cruiser U.S.S. Fargo now attached to the Sixth Task Fleet in the Mediterranean.

The Fargo left the United States June 1 and became the flagship of Vice Admiral Forrest P. Sherman.

While in Italy, many officers and men made tours of Rome, Pompeii, and the Isle of Capri, in Naples harbor. An audience with Pope Pius XII highlighted the visit to Rome.

Soldier of the Day

Okinawa, Sergeant First Class Culver O. TenBroeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Culver TenBroeck of 220 Washington avenue, was chosen "Soldier of the Day" by his organization, Ryukyus Command Transportation Service, during its celebration of the Transportation Corps' sixth anniversary at the Port of Naha, Okinawa. Sgt. TenBroeck, a six-foot six-inch Army careerman, accompanied the reviewing party, consisting of Major General W. W. Eagles, commanding general; Colonel Robert L. Allen, Jr., chief of the Transportation Service, and their aides and adjutants, as they inspected the troops, the civilian employees, and the ships of the Port with banners flying.

A 1939 graduate of Kingston High School, Sgt. TenBroeck enlisted in the Army the following year and served during the war with the Amphibious Engineers. His wife, Edna, and their 10-month-old daughter, Sharon Lee, live at Port Ewen.

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Aug. 31—Edward Terhune and family who last year rented a cottage of Donald Bishop at West Shokan last summer, are occupying rooms at the Petro Mastrotta place on Route 28. Mr. Terhune is distribution manager for the Standard Oil Company in Brooklyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Angell and son of Worcester, Mass., are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Richard. Dick spent several summers here as a boy.

Herbert J. Swarthout, whose funeral was held Saturday in Kingston, was one of several children of Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Swarthout, farmers who owned 100 acres in the Boiceville road section of Olive. The Swarthout family were early residents of Shandaken, a part of which town was taken to form the town of Olive in 1823.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Weisenstein, residents of Shokan for about a year, have sold their place on the middle reservoir road to Joseph and Minnie Tokats of Harlem. Fred, a War 2 veteran, and his wife, the former Ruth Johnson of St. Albans, L. I., have been operating a restaurant at their residence, the one time Thomas Matland home.

Waterwork Days

Wednesday, Aug. 31, 1910: Atwood—Foreman Michael Sheehan has been promoted to walking boss on the aqueduct job. Kingston—Will of Solomon Davenport of Stone Ridge disposes of estate of $2,500 real and $400 personal property. Beechford—Maude Satterlee of Philadelphia is visiting her sister, Mabel Satterlee. Tongore—Ground has been broken for the new M. E. Church parsonage and the Odd Fellows Hall. West Hurley—Martin Stever and family have moved to St. Remy. Mr. and Mrs. David Simmons went to Zena to attend the funeral of Mrs. Simmons' sister, Mrs. Hogan. Krumville—William Oakley and son are employed on the Tongore church parsonage job and Ephraim and Jason Altheiser have work on the hall foundations there.

Clyde Winchell returned home Thursday from a trip to Troy and other upstate points.

Mrs. Charles Constable of Phenicia has been visiting at the Bertha Constable home.

Having an Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Peck, well known Port Ewen couple, are having a wedding anniversary Wednesday, September 1. They were married at the Shokan Methodist Church parsonage by the Rev. Roscoe J. Tarbox. Mr. Peck, a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Peck of the old village, attended the Brookside school here and his bride, who was Ruth Carney, also was a resident of Olive. The couple have one child, Mrs. Charles Jungerford of Port Ewen. Saturday, September 4, marks a birthday of Robert D. Every, a member of the younger summer resident set here. Robert, born in Kingston, and now a resident of Richmond Hill, L. I., is the youngest son of Kendall and Mary (Bell) Every and a grandson of Alton and Fannie E. (Seoville) Every of West Hurley.

A number of Shokan and Ashokan people attended the funeral of Elmer Davis, well known Tongore farmer, at his late residence last Friday. Mr. Davis was a descendant of some of the earliest settlers in that part of South Olive which originally was embraced in the town of Marbletown.

Boys of '61

Following is still another Memorial tribute to some of the 40 Olive young men who did not return alive from the great Civil War: George M. Roosa, enlisted Aug. 1, 1862, Co. A, 120th Regiment of Infantry, died Falmouth, Va., December, 1862. (Private Roosa's funeral was held in the Shokan Dutch Church). William M. Burtee, enlisted Feb. 15, 1864, Co. B, 20th Infantry, died City Point, Va., Sept. 16, 1864. John W. Davis, Co. D, 20th Regiment, killed at Second Bull Run. Daniel W. Crispell, Co. K, 20th Regiment, died Aug. 1, 1864, New Orleans. Jeremiah Osborn, enlisted Aug. 2, 1861, 9th Regiment, wounded, Fredricksburg and died Dec. 14, 1862. The approximate number of our boys brought home from

Body Found in Truck

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—The body of a truck driver, who had been shot and possibly tortured, was found yesterday tied in a canvas bundle inside his locked truck. The victim was George Klemmas, 56, of the Bronx, who had been missing since last Friday. Police said they had no clue to the motive for the killing. They said Klemmas had a record of five arrests and two convictions on grand larceny and robbery charges in the past 36 years. A medical examiner said Klemmas had a bullet wound in the head and two others in the chest, and that there was evidence of possible torture. The truck was found parked on a street on the lower Manhattan waterfront.

Expel Left-Wingers

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—A membership meeting of the National Maritime Union (C.I.O.) has voted to expel from the union three left-wing former officers after a trial on charges of mis-

SERVICE COOPERATION

New doings and announcements in the Department of Defense speak of closer cooperation among the military services. The civilian citizenry is likely to receive the new pronouncements without excitement, expressing if anything a desire to have a look at this co-ordination and cooperation.

It has seemed to the taxpayer that the beneficial effects hoped for from the unification of service command have been painfully slow in appearing. The cost of maintaining the military establishment so far has trended upward rather than downward under the new scheme of things, and there have been few evidences that the national defense is becoming more effective.

Whatever were the original hopes, it is now clear that the first unification act has instituted no more than a transition period from the old conception of the functions of the services toward a new theory of a single, integrated defensive system. Further congressional action will be needed to achieve such a system.

Meanwhile the interests and safety of the nation will be best served if the three services bend earnest effort toward the closest possible cooperation within the framework of existing legislation.

The possibility that as many as 200,000 displaced persons may remain forever in the refugee camps of Germany is envisioned by Dr. Carl J. Hambro of Norway, delegate to the United Nations Economic and Social Council. These are the aged persons, or the mutilated, unable to support themselves in any community to which they might be transplanted.

FOR THE HUMAN RIGHT

"Emergency does not create power, but emergency may create occasion for the exercise of powers which exist." So wrote Charles Evans Hughes in probably the most notable, certainly the most noted, ruling of the Supreme Court during the period when he was chief justice. It was the decision in January, 1934, upholding the Minnesota mortgage moratorium law, a green light for the New Deal emergency program.

This staunch Republican wrote 18 majority opinions sustaining the controversial New Deal legislative program during its trying early years, and in addition is credited with swaying Associate Justice Owen J. Roberts to the liberal side, a significant factor in some of the close decisions. Yet strangely he was one of the targets of the late President Roosevelt's attack on "the Nine Old Men" in the middle days of his administration. Stranger still, he was considered too conservative by strong elements in the Senate in 1930, and they made a bitter effort to prevent confirmation of his nomination by President Hoover.

He was an eminent, austere and always honorable figure through one of the most turbulent periods of United States history. It seems inevitable that in the perspective of years to come the significance of his life will grow.

New failure to agree on the structure of a United Nations police force is reported. It's like leaving off the front door of a new house, because of inability to decide whether it should hinge at the right or the left.

PROTECTING WORKERS

The American Public Welfare Association reports that every state now has workmen's compensation laws to provide financial protection for workers against employment accidents. This is a far cry from the days when injury or death at work left the worker and his family to shift for themselves.

There is variance among the states as to the method of providing funds to be used in paying compensation, and in the extent of the individual employer's liability. All place some share of the financial burden on the employer, usually in some direct proportion to the risks and accident record of the specific plant.

One result of the adoption of workmen's compensation plans has been an added de-

THE CAMPAIGN

Immediately after Labor Day, the Presidential campaign will start in earnest. Up to now, the candidates, with the exception of Henry Wallace, have more or less been on vacation. Henry Wallace, running for permanence, is not really concerned with the ephemera of 1948. Thomas E. Dewey has been at Pawling most of the time conferring with Republican leaders and producing the closest unity the party has known in many decades. Harry Truman met a defeat in the 80th Congress in the sense that it added nothing to his stature, although he did embarrass the Republicans, particularly Governor Dewey who, as candidate for the Presidency, is the head of his party, but under our system that does not give him a voice in Congressional matters until he is elected. Dewey has had to steer a careful course, lest all his efforts for party unity collapse, as Mr. Truman naturally hoped it might.

No issue raised before the 80th Congress by Harry Truman will affect the election seriously, except States Rights, which may give Virginia and Tennessee to Dewey. The Negro vote in the North is in a surprising state of flux. At one time, it looked as though Henry Wallace might get a preponderance of Negro votes in New York and Chicago. That does not seem to be the situation at this moment. I should not be startled to find on election day that in these cities, and others, there will be no distinct Negro vote, that the Negro districts, Dewey, Truman and Wallace will run in about that order. For in spite of all the efforts of the Communists, the Northern Negro is not a Communist. He is likely to favor Dewey because of the F. E. P. C. in New York State, which the Negroes hope may become a national measure. Many of them feel that they have a better chance with Dewey than with Truman, who is developing the reputation of not being able to deliver in spite of all talk. They know that Wallace can deliver nothing, because he won't be elected.

There is another danger for them in Wallace, namely, that he is smeared with the Communist tar brush by association. The Negro leaders might be smeared with the same brush by association with him. Therefore, a notable reversion from Wallace is now occurring. The espionage cases are helping this tendency along.

It was originally Tom Dewey's intention to deliver a limited number of speeches. It was assumed that Governor Warren of California, the Vice Presidential candidate, would deliver some, as would Stassen, Taft, Vandenberg. It would seem that because Truman insists on talking all the time and often extemporaneously, the Republicans will be forced to make a larger number of speeches. Also Governor Warren, who is better known in the West where he is extraordinarily popular, wishes to be and needs to be increasingly presented to Eastern audiences.

This excessive speech-making is a bore and a horror for most candidates. It means constant traveling, and an audience audience anywhere. The candidates reach very few voters by all this travel; they reach most by radio and television. But custom requires a candidate to run about the country, shaking hands at whistle stops and rushing from railroad stations to big halls with tens of thousands of people, cops screaming. There will be plenty of that now that Harry Truman has set the pace. He apparently likes it.

Governor Warren will have to be extremely clever to come out of all this speech-making with his present reputation unimpaired. The Constitution does not give to the Vice President any responsibility other than bugging the gavel in the Senate when he wants to. Governor Warren, then, will be speaking to the cameras and not to the people. He cannot speak Tom Dewey's mind, first, because Dewey will be doing that himself, and secondly, because Warren has a mind of his own, which may not move in precisely the same channel as Dewey's on some questions. Should they be elected, however, it will not matter what Warren said, because he can constitutionally do nothing about anything as Vice President. It will be interesting to see how this works out. ## That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

HOME TREATMENT OF ARTHRITIS

The usual treatment for rheumatism and arthritis is by acetylsalicylic acid (aspirin), to which is sometimes added other drugs which help this drug to be more effective. Acetylsalicylic acid not only relieves the pain caused by the nerves but also relaxes the muscles, which often are in a tightened condition.

However, patients suffering with arthritis and rheumatism for months or years should receive other treatment besides that of aspirin, a member of their daily lives. Heat in various forms is the best single method aside from the salicylates, yet heat is only one part of what is known as physical therapy or treatment.

In the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Walter M. Solomon, Cleveland, states that if one is deprived of all the various methods of treating arthritis—diet, injections, medicines, treatment of the emotions—heat, massage, exercise—to improve their patients mentally and physically.

"Heat in any form increases the circulation to the part, relaxes the tissues and relieves pain. Most forms of heat are applied once a day and two or three times a day are even better." Infrared lamps or ordinary plain bulbs are useful in applying heat to a knee or shoulder.

After the heat has been applied for 20 or 30 minutes, massage should follow. One of two lessons from an expert masseur should enable a member of the household to give massage as often as heat is applied. Massage is practically painless after heat has been applied, and helps carry away wastes from the affected part and bring pure blood to replace it.

Exercise, the third part, is used after the heat and massage. It consists of slow movements of the affected parts, which prevents permanent stiffness of joints and muscles. As soon as possible the patient is encouraged to use the entire body in light work or exercise. This helps the body and mind.

Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis

Sufferers with chronic rheumatism and arthritis will find many helpful suggestions as to diet, heat, massage, and other aids in Dr. Barton's booklet entitled "Chronic Rheumatism and Arthritis." To obtain it, just send 10 cents and a 3-cent stamp, to cover cost of handling and mailing, to The Bell Syndicate, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y., and ask for your copy.

gree of security for the worker. Another has been improved safety devices and practices to reduce the hazards of employment. There was a time when the safety of the worker was his own individual concern; today it is a primary concern of industrial and business management.

The net gain is greater physical and economic safety for the worker. And industry is finding that the worker generally is a better producer because of his added peace of mind.

Car trouble has one bright side. It makes an excuse for being late which everybody will believe.

A Peek Into the Workings of the Russian Mind

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By ROBERT S. ALLEN

Washington — Leaders of the House Un-American Activities Committee had a scorching secret act to over the conflicting Hiss-Chambers testimony.

The wrangle took place after the inconclusive, day-long interrogation of the former New Dealer and Time editor. The Congressional probers barked more angrily at one another than they had at the two witnesses.

Cause of the dispute was the question of instituting perjury proceedings.

Rep. Ed. Hebert, fiery Louisiana Dixiecrat, angrily demanded immediate prosecution. Rep. Carl Mundt, R., S. D., and Rep. Richard Nixon, R., Cal., just as angrily insisted on further public hearings. Each side accused the other of playing politics and grid-stalling.

"I'm getting sick of this mess-aging around," Hebert declared. "Either Hiss or Chambers is lying, but it's not for us to decide who is guilty. We have presented the evidence, and it's now up to the Justice Department to determine who committed perjury and to prosecute. I am strongly in favor of the Committee continuing its investigation, but the Hiss-Chambers phase of it is finished. It's time we went on to other things."

"But the administration wants to shut off the probe entirely, while you Republicans want to keep this Hiss-Chambers pot boiling. Both sides are playing politics. I'm a Thurmond man myself, and I say you are both trying to drag this matter out until after the November election."

"We're laying the facts on a very important matter concerning the loyalty of government officials before the American people," retorted Mundt. "Do you call that playing politics?"

"It's the way you're doing it," shot back Hebert. "You are obviously dragging this thing out in an effort to affect the election."

"We have already established the fact that perjury was committed. What more is needed for the Justice Department to act? It's got the evidence, let it step in and take over. That's what the Department is for."

"That's your opinion," snapped Nixon. "We don't think the Committee has uncovered all the evidence. Until we do, we should not waive our rights to the Justice Department."

Strangely, Chairman Parnell Thomas, usually very vocal, took no part in the exchange. Later, however, he indicated he was "inclined to agree with Hebert."

The Committee finally effected a compromise. On Nixon's motion it was agreed to hear several other witnesses after which the case would be turned over to the Justice Department.

Cured

Clark Clifford, handsome young ghost writer for President Truman, has a favorite story on how a certain speech was prepared for the late F.D.R.

Instead of turning the task over to his usual assistants, Roosevelt, on this occasion, did his own drafting. Several days before the speech was to be made, he turned the manuscript over to Harry Hopkins.

"I've written this myself," Roosevelt said. "Look it over and see what ought to be done with it."

Hopkins summoned Judge Sam Rosenman and the two usually prepared the speeches. After the trio had read the draft, there was a long silence.

Finally Sherwood said, "The best thing is to put this aside and start fresh from scratch." The next day, Hopkins handed the new speech to Roosevelt. He read it carefully and then exclaimed, "This is fine. Just what I wanted."

Clifford relates that Roosevelt never asked about his original draft and never again wrote another speech.

Secret Test

The U. S. public doesn't know it, but it's being secretly "tested" on reaction toward onetime-Jap collaborators.

The cagey probing is being done by a group of powerful Filipino politicians who would like to stage a comeback in next year's presidential election. Head of the group is Jose Laurel, premier of the wartime puppet government. Now at liberty under an amnesty order of the late President Roxas, Laurel has his eye on the Philippine presidency.

The testing of U. S. sentiment is being done in this manner:

prominent ex-collaborators are being quietly sent to Washington on short visits to circulate among officials and do some open-handed entertaining. The idea is that if no "squawks" develop, then others will be sent over for longer stays. If that proves successful, then Laurel himself will come over.

Latest of these trial balloons was Jorge Vargas, who spent a week in a swank capital hotel. Vargas headed the Executive Committee of the puppet Government and was puppet Ambassador to Tokyo. He was imprisoned by General MacArthur and spent a long time in jail. Like Laurel, Vargas was freed under the Roxas amnesty.

Two other ex-collaborators are due shortly. They are Camilo Osias and Emilio Tria Tirona, who were active in the Jap setup. If they get by without outcry, then plan is to make still another of the group a member of the Filipino Embassy.

He is Arsenio Luz, Minister of Propaganda in the puppet Government. The job slated for him is Information Officer of the Embassy. And his assistant would be Leon Guerrero, who was top broadcaster of the Jap-controlled Manila radio.

Strike

The President's home state is chalking up a strike record for the year. The famed Missouri "lead belt" has been the scene of the year's longest strike. For eight weeks, hundreds of employees of the St. Joseph Lead Company have been on a wage-demand walkout. No settlement is yet in sight. The strikers are members of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, a leftist-controlled CIO union.

No Vacancies

The Army is top-heavy with generals. It has so many there are no vacancies for those on the general-officers' eligibility list. Their only hope for promotion is deaths or retirements. Because of this overloaded situation, Army promotion boards next year will start from the lower ranks and work up instead of from the top down, the usual practice.

Happiness

A prominent French newspaper is conducting a contest on a definition of happiness. Leading reply so far is from a woman who wrote, "Happiness is possible only if we can do without men."

Justice Hughes Never Avoided Any Subject, No Matter How Delicate, and Never Evaded Any Question in His Relations With the Press

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Aug. 31—No secretary of state in the last quarter of a century ever handled the press as well as did the late Charles Evans Hughes. Because the subject of press conferences has been so much debated, both as a worthwhile institution and actually as an annoyance to government officials, it is perhaps pertinent to describe the Hughes press conferences.

For one thing Secretary Hughes never avoided any subject, no matter how delicate. He never evaded any question. More often than not, he did not tell the inner details of a negotiation. The correspondents, however, were never left in the dark as to what were the main issues involved in the negotiation.

Mr. Hughes was successful in implanting his ideas, and it may be said that almost never did anyone write inaccurately about the conference. This was because when he said was clear and unambiguous. Mr. Hughes often talked to the press as much as a half hour without interruption. He didn't appear to be making speeches to them and yet it seemed as if sometimes he was pleading a cause in the court of public opinion.

The secretary adopted the attitude that in talking to the press he was talking to the American people. He had no secrets from them as to the main lines of action. He talked of principles of policy so that there would be no misunderstanding. When these principles were translated in detail into actual agreements or proclamations, he made them public as official announcements. Usually, however, what he had said earlier made the matter so clear that the official statements were an anticlimax.

Mr. Hughes in his time handled many delicate matters. There was, for instance, the American relationship to the League of Nations. Both the Republicans and the Democrats in the 1920's were opposed to American entry into the league. Yet Secretary Hughes endeavored to cooperate informally with the League on various humanitarian and non-political endeavors.

Perhaps the most intricate problem was the Dawes plan, in which he respects the anchor of present-day Marshall Plan. While America did not officially sponsor the plan, Americans were leaders in formulating and operating it. It was important that the Dawes plan receive the approval of the American public. Mr. Hughes, by his skillful handling of the news about it, helped immeasurably in that direction.

Mr. Hughes gave the impression that he wasn't afraid of reportorial questions. But at the same time it was amazing how little they questioned or cross-questioned him. This was because he anticipated their inquiries and gave them so much information and background that there was little to ask when he finished.

This sort of handling of the press was possible because of Mr. Hughes' great mind. His logic and his superb command of simple language enabled him to make things clear to the reporters. Often he would repeat a point as if he were trying to persuade his audience. He knew that if the press misunderstood, so would the public.

It is true that Mr. Hughes had complete control of the foreign policy of the government while he was secretary of state. President Harding delegated it to him very much as President Truman is doing today to Secretary Marshall. But the subject matter was so familiar to Mr. Hughes that one suspected he never appeared at a press conference without the same thorough preparation he might have given to a brief before he argued a case in the courts.

After all, Mr. Hughes' method was intelligent and persuasive because he believed in preparing for press conferences in advance. He did not permit direct quotation but he rarely had the experience of finding an article that did not emphasize what he tried to emphasize. He was a master of the art of public relations, and there was nothing artful or clever about it. The method was one of simplicity and utter candor.

As one looks back at the record of the Hughes press conferences, one wishes that other officials today might adopt the same approach. But then they would have to learn a new respect for the press, and that is still the main safeguard of freedom in a democracy. (Reproduction rights reserved)

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

New York, Aug. 30—The concern of the inveterate bleeding heart for those who assume the habits and frequent the haunts of Bolshevism but stop short of joining commands more suspicion than sympathy.

The only one who would be immune would be President Harry Truman, himself. Mr. Truman never will be suspected of any intelligent political conviction and his allegation that red herrings have been hauled across his ideals will be recognized as the honestly stupid court house politician. Mr. Truman would not defend or conceal a Muscovite schemer against this land of the Pilgrim's pride except incidentally for some higher purpose. Those who save old clipping of significant false moves will be likely to have one wherein the chairman of the Democratic National Committee, a guru named McGrath, got up at a political drinking in California last winter and said that the spirit of F. D. Roosevelt would be the Democratic nominee in 1948, running for fifth term, and that Mr. Truman would merely try to catch occult messages on his aerial and act upon them. There was no reason for the President to protest against this sincere aspersion, the most degrading compliment that one eminent nonentity ever received from a peer. For Mr. Truman is, indeed, attempting to vindicate Roosevelt and to win in his name, and that is the reason why he is put to the gross but easy dishonesty of denying that the administration which he inherited from Roosevelt was, and is, crawling with traitors.

The charges currently heard refer to a time when the late Mahatma was as sane as he ever was in his life. He knew that he was leading his administration with Communists. Overt and Covert, whose loyalty would lie with Russia in any showdown. If Mr. Truman were to admit this obvious truth, he would accuse and repudiate the spook and might as well withdraw.

So it is not because President Truman cherishes Communists above Republicans that he protects them by his denials and his counter-attacks on the hounds of righteousness. They are Roosevelt's Communists.

Like Roosevelt's widow, his son, Elliott, and his daughter, Fala, Roosevelt's Communists must be condoned, excused, even explained, not for their own sake, but for the sake of the party.

Many other defenders of the great sedition have taken as their text a book of remarkably tawdry hack journalism by one Bert Andrews, a Washington correspondent of the New York Herald-Tribune. It is called "Washington Witch-Hunt."

Mr. Andrews is not a good writer even by the slack, unprofessional Washington standard. This was bad enough in the days of Warren G. Harding, whose hordes of circle of playful porch-hangers and gilders-sappers were not exposed until Senator Walsh of Montana, spat on his hands and sank his pick in pay dirt. By a miracle of laziness, venality and stupidity so gross as to jeopardize the charter of a free press, the administration which he in-

C.I.O. Faces Tough Puzzle In Endorsement of Truman

By HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—The C.I.O.'s politically-split executive board today faced its toughest campaign puzzle in eight years—how to endorse President Truman without losing important left-wing unions.

The 31-member group met yesterday but only skirted the subject. It adopted unanimously—a legislative program very close to that Mr. Truman asked of the 80th Congress.

But at least eight unions—including the powerful United Electrical Workers and Harry Bridges' coast longshoremen—were lined up for Henry Wallace and his third party candidacy last January when the executive board last took up the C.I.O.'s political stand.

C.I.O. President Philip Murray

said it could be "assumed" that the board would endorse a presidential candidate at today's meeting (8:30 a. m. E.S.T.). Because the C.I.O. has been so closely committed to the same objectives as Mr. Truman, there was little doubt that he would get the nod rather than Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee.

But how the usually-diplomatic Murray would accomplish the endorsement without an out-and-out rift with electric workers, Bridges, longshoremen and leather workers, and others remained to be seen.

A remote possibility would be for the unions led by Wallace supporters to "take a walk" for the duration of the campaign. There were few predictions of such a course, however.

John L. Lewis, first president of the C.I.O., stepped down in 1940 because the late Franklin D. Roosevelt won election to a third term. Lewis had favored Republican Wendell Willkie, and promised to quit as C.I.O. chief if Roosevelt was re-elected.

Murray told a news conference last night the executive board never took a formal vote in 1940 but was painfully split by the fight between Roosevelt and Lewis.

Murray succeeded Lewis as C.I.O. president. Lewis quit the C.I.O. altogether in 1942, after kicking Murray out of the United Mine Workers vice-presidency.

While the C.I.O. board was wrestling with the problem of an endorsement here, the general executive board of the A.F.L. Teamsters Union decided in Chicago yesterday to limit its political activities to "a local level."

Members were called upon to "help elect the friends of labor, whether they be Democrats or Republicans."

Daniel J. Tobin, teamsters president, earlier had taken issue with a statement by A.F.L. Chief William Green that the A.F.L. would never support Dewey. The teamsters backed President Roosevelt against Dewey in 1944.

The decision of A.F.L. leaders to form a committee to work for Mr. Truman's election, plus the week-end endorsement by Americans for Democratic Action, led Senator Tydings (D.-Md.) to comment today:

"I think the President is stronger now than he was a month ago, but I don't think that Dewey is."

Tydings added to reporters, however, that it may be September 15 before any definite trends are established in the campaign.

Mr. Truman will open his campaign with a series of Labor Day speeches in Detroit and four other Michigan cities. Harold E. Stassen, who lost out to Dewey at the C.I.E. convention, will reply to the President from Detroit later that same day.

name of Peters, but identified himself as Alexander Stevens.

Although it was balked by Peters, the sub-committee heard testimony yesterday by Chambers that he got a $6,000-a-year "boondoggling" job with the government in 1937 through Communist influence.

Underground Courier

Chambers said he was being paid as a Communist underground courier at that time.

The witness said he landed the job—in the research department of the Railroad Retirement Board—"within 24 hours" after applying.

Calling the job "boondoggling," Chambers said he was warned not to work too hard, "or the job would end."

This was the first time the story about the job had been related publicly, but it had been told to the committee in closed hearings at Washington during the week-end. Chambers said he landed the job through Peters and two men who he said were government employees at that time—Abraham George Silverman and Irving Kaplan.

Chambers said Silverman was a Communist, Elizabeth Bentley, a star witness before the committee, previously had named Silverman as a member of a Russian spy ring she said operated in U. S.

Investigation of public water supplies continued during the summer months. Marlborough, Kerhonkson, New Paltz, Rosendale and Highland supplies being tested. Routine inspections were made at Hurley, Wallkill and Ellenville. At Marlborough the unsatisfactory samples were found to be due to the sampling tap. At Kerhonkson taste and odors developed from an overgrowth of summer diatom. Treatment made the water safe but "far from attractive." Other supplies were found to be good.

Statistical Report

The statistical report shows 3 cases of chickenpox in July; 57 measles; 1 paratyphoid; 3 pneumonia; 1 polio; 2 pertussis; 2 streptococcal disease. There were 21 cases of cancer reported and 11 deaths.

Births reported 110. Deaths 67. Causes of death were 27 heart disease; 11 cancer; 7 cerebral hemorrhage; 8 accidents; 2 nephritis; 2 diabetes; 1 pneumonia; 2 tuberculosis; 2 suicide; five from all other causes.

The Kingston city meat inspector examined a total of 1,222 animals, 364 cows and 857 calves. Two entire animals were condemned.

ing his speech. The party's gubernatorial nominee, Miss Mary DeLoe, could not be heard above the boos as she introduced Wallace.

Gov. Gregg Cherry deplored the violence to which Wallace has been exposed beginning with his first public talk at Durham Sunday night and castigated those responsible.

His six-state southern tour began quietly enough in Virginia Sunday.

Unsolved difficulties faced him in other states on the program.

Police Commissioner Eugene (Bull) Connor of Birmingham, Ala., where Wallace speaks tomorrow, announced he had sent out a copy of Birmingham's ordinance requiring separation of whites and Negroes "by well-defined physical barriers." Wallace has declared he will address only non-segregated gatherings.

The auditorium board at Little Rock, Ark., where Wallace is scheduled Friday denied him the use of its building on the same issue.

But at Jackson, Miss., Gov. F. Lee Wright promised an escort of state police Thursday and said "I don't think there will be any discourtesy toward him."

Wallace practiced what he preached in North Carolina, attending gatherings at Negro clubs and spending both nights at the homes of wealthy Negroes in Winston-Salem.

When he was in Winston-Salem while vice president in 1941, he stayed at the home of R. J. Reynolds, multimillionaire tobacco manufacturer.

Fire Mystery Solved

Macomb, Ill., Aug. 31 (AP)—More than 100 fires on the Charles Valley Farm, the origin of which baffled scientists and experts for nearly two weeks, were set by a 13-year-old member of the family, a deputy state fire marshal said yesterday. John Burgard, the deputy, said the girl, Wonet McNeil, told authorities she touched off the fires when other family members "weren't watching me."

Burgard said Wonet told him she set the fires because she wanted to be sent to live with her divorced mother, Mrs. Leona Eagle of Bloomington, Ill. The rash of blazes attracted nationwide attention. They led to speculation that the flames were caused by radioactivity, gas, fly spray or roach paste.

Quartet Brings Wealth Of Music to Kingston

Special attention of Kingston's musicians and those who enjoy music has been held this summer by the concerts sponsored through the Sanctuary Choir at St. James Methodist Church. The concerts were presented by the Woodstock String Quartet and have brought to Kingston a wealth of chamber music experiences.

Sunday morning the quartet played for the service at St. James Church. The musicians were not visible to the congregation who only heard the music. This experience of worship through music of stringed instruments was most satisfying, reverent and altogether calm and beautiful. Selections by Boccherini and Handel, were used, as well as the Spiritual, Deep River, and a composition by Raff.

The Rev. Merrill C. Johnson, pastor, spoke on behalf of the congregation in appreciation of the music for the August union Sunday morning service as well as the summer concert series brought to the church. Leroy Davis, baritone, of the choir, sang the offertory solo and Samuel D. Scudder, Jr., was at the console. C. Franklin Pierce, organist and director of music at the church, was absent from the service because of illness.

Next Sunday will mark the final union service series when music and the spoken word are emphasized in a summer worship program.

Brunet-Brinks, Mt. Tremper Couple Wed in Short Hills

MRS. DONALD BRUNET

New York, Aug. 30 (Special to the Freeman)—The marriage of Miss Joan Duane Brinks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brinks of Mount Tremper, to Donald Joseph Brunet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adm. Brunet, also of Mount Tremper, took place in Short Hills, N. J., Saturday. The Rev. John F. Ryan, pastor of St. Rose of Lima Church, performed the ceremony. The reception was in the garden of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Christensen in Short Hills, with whom the bride has been making her home.

The bride, wearing a white broadcloth suit and bonnet, carried white roses. Miss Elizabeth Dewey, maid of honor, was dressed in burgundy iridescent tulle. And Miss Audrey Henderson, the bridesmaid, similarly in green.

Harry W. Carle of Mount Tremper served as best man for Mr. Brunet. Dr. C. R. Rowe was usher.

The bride, who was graduated from St. Agnes' Academy, Rockville Centre, L. I., is a Walter Thornton model. Her husband, an alumnus of the Hunt Memorial School, Ithaca, was discharged from the Navy after serving three years. He participated in the Normandy invasion and in five South Pacific invasions.

After a trip to Lake George, the couple will live in Maplewood, N. J.

Machione-Bellini Wedding Takes Place In Holy Name Church

The wedding of Miss Edna Bellini, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bellini, 23 Purvis street, to John Machione, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Machione of Glaxo, took place Sunday at 2 p. m. in Holy Name Church, Wilbur. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph J. O'Rourke.

Joseph Vigna was organist. Among the traditional selections was Ave Maria.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a white chiffon gown fashioned with long sheer pointed sleeves and girdle of white satin embossed with seed pearls. The skirt terminated in a train. She wore a fingertip veil with lace crown and carried a cascade bouquet of white baby button chrysanthemums.

Miss Stella Bellini was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a yellow chiffon gown designed with three-quarter sleeves and skirt made with tiers of ruffles at the back. She wore a picture hat to match and carried a colonial bouquet of orchid pompons and yellow roses.

The best man was Joseph David of Hudson. Ushers were Arnold Bellini, brother of the bride, and Joseph Amato.

Reception was held at Pleasant Valley Inn for about 80 guests. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Machione left for a wedding trip to Canada.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and Moran Business School. She is employed in the office at Cities Service Oil Co. Mr. Machione is the proprietor of the Rainmond Beauty Shoppe.

WIDOW COMPLAINS

A widow writes: "You say it is right for a widow to continue to call herself what she always has. Accordingly, I've been doing this since my husband died and my son continues to call himself John Smith, Jr. But today, you say the son drops 'Junior' on the death of his father. Unless his mother changed her name, which is contrary to what you said earlier, there would be no way to distinguish the mother and the son's wife. Would you clarify this discrepancy in your advice?"

"This is a situation whose only solution would seem to be to cease naming sons for their fathers. When the father dies and the son drops the 'Jr.' throughout his mother's lifetime, the only way their identities can avoid being mistaken for the father's is to add 'Sr.' (Senior) to her name. Unfortunately, almost none do and therefore, too few outsiders pay attention to this suffix when it is used to make it practical. There is really no way of separating his identity from that of his father's except by continuing to add 'Jr.' to his name."

Vacation Questions

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) When arriving at a hotel, is it necessary to tip the doorman who opens the door of the car, especially if he takes out the luggage and the bellboy carries it into the hotel? (2) Also, does the same answer apply when leaving? (3) When asking the waiter in the dining room to bring cigarettes, is it necessary to tip him at that time? (4) If the person who brings them is not the waiter, is he (or she) to be tipped? (5) Should the elevator man and the housekeeper be given something?

Answers: (1) Doorman, no, but the bellboy, who picks up the bags and takes them up to your room, yes. (2) On this occasion, the doorman—if he helps stow the luggage—receives a tip. (3) His tip at the end of the meal is sufficient. (4) Yes. (5) Elevator man, yes, and the chambermaid, but the housekeeper whom you never even see.

Not Too Heavy

Dear Mrs. Post: Would a large hat be out of place at an evening wedding?

Answer: Not unless it is too heavy in effect.

Mrs. Post's leaflet, E-6, "What to Wear at Wedding Receptions," includes description of clothes for afternoon and evening weddings.

To obtain a copy, send 5 cents in coin and a stamped self-addressed envelope to her care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Dutchess County Philharmonic Lists Subscription Drive

The Dutchess County Philharmonic Society announces that of the week following Labor Day, September 7, through 11, is annual subscription week. Offices are located in the control building or Radio Station WKIP at the Nelson House in Poughkeepsie. There will be four concerts this season at the Poughkeepsie High School auditorium. Artists of the Hudson Valley will appear as soloists for three of the concerts. The fourth soloist is Frances Magness, who was popular in her work at the Lewisohn Stadium Concerts recently and received high praise from the critics.

William Robert Wood, business manager, stated that frequent requests for reserved tickets had been considered and this year reserved space is available in both balcony and orchestra sections of the auditorium. The popularity of the orchestra under the leadership of Ole Windstad has brought in a large number of advance requests for reserved seats. These are being assigned in order of receipt but can not be held after the closing of the campaign on September 11, unless fully paid for by the subscriber. Full information can be had by writing to the Dutchess County Philharmonic Society at P. O. Box 13, in Poughkeepsie, or by telephoning 70 Poughkeepsie 1954.

Members of the orchestra are outstanding instrumentalists of the Hudson Valley. The three soloists, who are from this area, are finalists in the talent auditions conducted under the auspices of the Society.

CITY BASEBALL LEAGUE MOURNS RADTKE'S DEATH

Twil Loop Plans Benefit Game And Memorial

President Davitt Eulogizes Ace

While a shocked baseball populace mourned the tragic and untimely death of young Andy Radtke, brilliant young pitcher of Stauble's Bakery, the City Baseball League today moved swiftly for a memorial service and a benefit game for the sensational young pitcher who died last night, following an accident on the new road construction on Route 28.

President Tommy Davitt of the twilight league said the Athletic field flag would be at half mast for the remainder of the league's playoff and championship games which get under way this evening.

Benefit Planned

Memorial services will be held Wednesday evening during the game between Morgan's Restaurant and the winner of today's clash between Boulevard Gulf and Chea Emile.

The league president said the benefit contest probably would be held on a Sunday during September and would feature an all-star game of some type.

Meanwhile as messages of condolences poured into the home of young Radtke's parents in Samsonville, City League managers, players and fans offered several suggestions for benefits and appropriate memorials for the gifted young right hander.

Rated Great Prospect

President Davitt paid high tribute to the skillful curve ball artist. In a brief eulogy, he said: "Andy Radtke was one of the best young pitching prospects developed in the City Baseball League in many years. He could do wonders with a great curve ball and had an excellent temperament. He loved to play the game and was one of the most respected and popular players in the league."

"Andy Radtke's death," Davitt

Junior All Star Teammates Shocked by Radtke's Death

Saddened and shocked by the tragic accident which snuffed out the life of their teammate, Andy Radtke, the K.A.A. Junior All Stars went through a long batting and fielding drill under the arc lights last night at municipal stadium.

Long before the scheduled time of the drill in preparation for Saturday night's annual junior classic against the Yankee "Stars of Tomorrow," the K.A.A. players huddled in small groups to talk about Andy Radtke's tragedy.

Some of the young men who had played side by side with Radtke during the season had not heard the bad news until they arrived at the stadium.

When informed of the full extent of Andy's injuries, some of the players said they believed that Radtke probably would wish he had died if his baseball career were curtailed.

They remembered Radtke as a bright, young peeling prospect who had reached off six continued. "It is one of the great tragedies of City Baseball League history. The condolences of the City League players, officials and fans like go to his bereaved parents."

Sought by Giants

Struck down at the pinnacle of a promising career, young Radtke had spurned an offer to join the New York Giant farm system in order to enlist in the U. S. Marines. He had planned to join the Marines at the close of the current baseball season.

Had Great Record

Radtke's 1948 City League record reflected steady improvement and sheer brilliance at the finish. After dropping his first four decisions, the young curve ball artist racked up six straight victories with the best pitching in the league.

He appeared in 12 games and pitched 88 innings during which he permitted only 58 hits and 34 runs far below average. His uncanny control of a low breaking curveball resulted in only 15 bases on balls in 88 innings.

Fanned 111 Batters

Radtke battled veteran Billy Winburn of Jones Dairy pennant winning squad for strikeout honors. He racked up 111 which may be high enough to win that specialty, although official statistics were not available today.

The young ace found West Shore a particularly choice morsel and in two outings against them pitched a one-hitter and two-hitter. He also two-hit the Wittwyck Motors.

Radtke's best strikeout performance in a single game was 11 against Wittwyck Motors. At the end of the season, he was coming on strong and was regarded as the top hurler in the league.

West Haven, Conn.—Bernie Reynolds, 181, Fairfield, Conn., stopped Renato Tonfield, 178, Italy (7).

Yanks Skin Tigers

The runner-up New York Yankees moved to within a game of Boston's pace-setting Boston Red Sox, who were idle yesterday, by beating the Detroit Tigers, 3-0, in a night game at the Yankee Stadium. Frank Shea stopped the Tigers on one hit.

The Yankees scored all of their runs in the first inning with Joe DiMaggio driving in one marker and Yogi Berra two.

Cleveland's third place Indians pulled to within a game and half of the Red Sox as Satchel Paige pitched the Tribe to a 10-1, seven-hit victory over the Senators in a night game at Washington.

Joe Gordon sparked Cleveland's 13-hit attack against four pitchers with a triple, double and single.

Sox Upset A's

At Philadelphia, the last place Chicago White Sox scored five runs in the ninth inning with two out to upset the fourth place Athletics, 9-6.

Singles by Tony Lupien, Luke Appling, Taft Wright and doubles by pinch hitter Ralph Weigel and Dave Philley featured Chicago's rally against losing pitcher Joe Coleman and Lou Brissie. The A's now trail the field by three and a half games.

PAUL DUNLOP

The veteran outfielder who patrols the right field sector for the Colonials is a former batting champion of the International and Eastern Leagues. Dunlop is just filling out the season for Kingston and Manager Ed Kobesky is counting on Dunlop's big bat in the drive to land in the playoffs. (Freeman Photo)

Bagatelles:

Let's roll out the welcome mat for Eddie Kobesky tonight and Wednesday at the municipal stadium. When you invade the other fellow's lair and win three games in a crucial series like that Bridgeport setto, it represents a tonight achievement. Not too many home games remaining in the slate. Let's root the boys into fourth place and the Colonial League playoffs.

Twas an Irishman's Dream:

Having trumped Wittwyck in the first meeting this season, Twaalfskill's recent victory was only a mild upset. . . . Alex Gerlach is doing a great job on the midtown club and his influence is reflected in the competitive attitude of the Twaalfskill players. . . . In previous years it was a chore to line up enough Twaalfskill swingmen for the annual clambake. . . . Now they're ready, willing and able. . . . John Van Gonsie, club president, showed the way with two brilliant rounds and that's all you can ask for. . . . Twaalfskill won this season because their low handicap players wouldn't roll over and play dead for the Wittwyck aces. . . . Van Gonsie and Remmert did a terrific job in bowling over Billy Van Aken and Maurice Davenport two times running.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Dan Shufeldt recorded the outstanding shot of the day, an eagle-2 on the par-4 No. 1. . . . From more than 100 yards out, Dan fired an iron shot straight and true to the cup. . . . All of this had a depressing effect on Ed Tongue, the "Old Judge" killer. . . . Shufeldt wrapped Eddie up in cellophane for the second straight time, 6 and 5. . . . Tongue went 13 holes before he bagged his first par. . . . The "Old Judge" was a victim of flaming youth, as he put it. . . . Dickie Davenport exploded 79 to trim the judge. . . . We hope Dickie never has to appear before him. . . . Maurice Davenport, the patriarch of the Davenport golfing dynasty, had to take a back seat from Dickie. . . . by a strike. . . . Eddie Modjeska got off to a flying start with a 38 against Frank Stone and never relinquished the lead. . . . Dr. Rifenbary, a real siege gun, drove his first ball out of bounds on the No. 1 tee and then hit the green with his second.

Of Men and Mice:

The "Old Judge" will never forgive us for matching him with Dick Davenport but we had enough of the kid two weeks before. . . . However, he didn't lose his sense of humor. . . . We were in the same foursome with the Judge, young Davenport and Stan Hankinson and right behind the Shufeldt-Fitzgerald-Ray LeFevre-Ed Tongue quartet. . . . Twice we overtook them on the 10th and Tongue split the ways with enthusiasm. . . . Later the "Old Judge" remarked "That Tongue made only two good shots all day and both came while I was looking on." . . . Nearing the home stretch on the 17th tee, a siren could be heard in the distance on Route 209. . . . "That's the ambulance coming for the Wittwyck remains," quipped the judge. . . . At the moment it was a premature gag because the match was far from decided and the final foursome had yet to record their gross tonnage of 400 strokes.

The Herm Gottfried-Jim Dwyer charm was wrecked completely by a couple of tough bombers—Watts Bailey and Junior Wonderly. . . . John O'Connor and Dr. Levitas came through with three big points for Twaalfskill as did Dr. Moseley and Bill, "Old 79" Fuller. . . . Fabe Russell cast his lot with Bill Newkirk and Wittwyck and bagged a 3-0 win over the Saugerties duo—Dr. Rod Ball and Bernie Schirmer. . . . We were happy to note that Dr. Ball made it without the alarm clock. . . . Charlie Burnett and Jim Winters, the model for golfing shorts, stormed in with three points over Ed O'Reilly and Al Flanagan. . . . A rumor circulated the Twaalfskill clubhouse that waivers had been asked on a certain judge, sports editor, Al Flanagan, Ed O'Reilly, Jim Dwyer and Herm Gottfried. . . . No takers.

N. Levan Haver, according to the Wittwyck correspondents, called three times within eight minutes to get the final score.

Th ladies' auxiliary of Wittwyck put on a lavish feed bag. The clubhouse and grounds were beautifully decorated. The ladies have done a remarkable job of improving the clubhouse facilities, new furniture, new paint, flowers, all tastefully set up. . . . Among those responsible for these fine improvements are Mrs. Helen Trowbridge, Mrs. Ivan Whitmore, Mrs. George Rifenbary, Mrs. Tom Danaher, Mrs. Charles E. Burnett, Mrs. Odell Black, Mrs. Philip Stone, Mrs. Clarence T. Voss and Mrs. Jack Feyer. . . . The husbands get an assist for the painting.

Mrs. Jim Winters was in bright spirits over the week-end. She broke 50 for the first time. . . . with a 48.

Fannelli Slated At Rhinebeck

Len Fannelli, one of the old stars at Woodstock and Washington Hollow in the early days of midjet car racing, will make his initial appearance at the Rhinebeck Speedway tonight.

Fannelli was injured a year ago and has been out of action since. He returned to the racing wars several weeks ago and promptly won a 50-lapper at Springfield and a main event in Connecticut. He will drive his Buck Wheeler.

Billy Ostrom, who has been both a pest and cousin for the Colonials this season, was mostly a pest last night in Poughkeepsie when the Chiefs rudely shattered Kingston hopes for a spot in the Colonial League playoffs.

With Ostrom essaying the iron man stunt—and half succeeding—the Chiefs hammered out 6-4 and 10-8 victories which unceremoniously dropped the Kobeskyites into a flat-footed fourth place tie with the Bridgeport Bees in the torrid race for one open spot in the playoffs.

Bridgeport Bees, a game and a half behind the Colonials, nosed out the Waterbury Timers, 3-2, in Waterbury to tie the locals at 55 wins and 68 losses.

The remainder of the stretch drive should be a donnybrook with the Colonials forced to do most of their battling on the road.

A two game series which starts against the Port Chester Clippers tonight at municipal stadium offers no immediate relief.

Ostrom Wins Opener

Ostrom five-hit the Colonials into submission in the seven-inning opener but lasted only four innings of the nightcap. Red Turner pitched effectively, yielding only six safeties, and was locked in a 4-4 tie with Billy the Kid when the Chiefs picked up a couple of cheapies in the sixth to decide the game.

Singles by Quimby and Thomaier and errors by Digger Odell and Dave Cashion accounted for the runs.

Kania Belted Hard

Joe Kania didn't have it in the nightcap and was batted out in the third when the Chiefs built up a 8-1 lead. Dan Keegan, the "Forgotten Man" of the staff pitched adequately the rest of the way but was tagged with the loss when the Chiefs scored twice in the seventh on Quimby's walk, Mizerak's triple and an infield out.

Howie Atkinson capped the Colonials' after they had pulled within 8-7 in the sixth. He gave up the tying marker in the seventh but wiggled out of a tight spot in the eighth by fanning Ferony for the final out with runners on second and third.

Dave Cashion delivered a pinch single in the ninth but Ed McNamara jammed into a twin killing after Matzer fanned.

Eddie McNamara, Odell and Al Ferony each had three hits in the 16-hit nightcap. Manager Eddie Kobesky returned to first base after a layoff and had a single in three trips.

Batting

Dixie Walker, Pirates—Clouted his second homer of the season with one on in the first inning to lead Pittsburgh to a 2-1 victory over the Boston Braves.

Pitching

Frank Shea, Yankees—Pitched the best game of his major league career in stopping Detroit, 3-0, on one hit for the Yanks. A single by opposing Pitcher Hal Newhouser in the third inning was the lone safety off Shea.

Holborow Signed by Philadelphia Athletics

Philadelphia, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics have signed Walt Holborow, 31-year-old veteran right-hander formerly with the Washington-Senators, as a relief pitcher.

Holborow, who reported to the A's today, served principally as a relief hurler while with the Senators in 1944-45.

In adding the Astoria, L. I., moundman to their staff, the A's brought their strength to the full 25-player limit.

Bohan Asks Shots For Esopus Folders

Thomas Bohan, president of the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce, is desirous of securing photographic material for future Town of Esopus folders, particularly those showing scenic views which might be incorporated in new folders. Realizing that there will be increased competition for the future resort and travel dollar, the Esopus Chamber of Commerce seeks to meet this competition with the most attractive possible folder and information regarding the scenic, historical and recreational advantages of the area.

Notices have been sent out to members of the Chamber of Commerce soliciting "summer action" pictures for next year. These pictures may be submitted by members of the Esopus Chamber of Commerce by any resident of the township and should be not less than five by seven inches in size on glossy paper. Any historical write-ups which will increase interest in the folders is also solicited. Photographs and historical sketches should be sent to Mrs. Alice Randle, secretary of the Town of Esopus Chamber of Commerce, Port Jervis.

16,232 Register in N. Y.

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—A total of 16,232 men registered in the five boroughs of New York city yesterday on the first day of enrollment under the second peace-time draft. Col. Candler Cobb, director of selective service for New York city, reported that of the total registered in the first period of enrollment, 12,358 were born in 1922 and the total of men from other age groups who were allowed to register the first day was 3,874. Maj. Paul Akst, chief of operations and manpower division of New York City Selective Service, said it was assumed that about 10 per cent of those who registered in the first period were eligible for induction.

Small Forest Fire

A small force of men under supervision of Aaron Van DeBogert, forest ranger, fought a small forest fire near the Oscar Beesmer property in the West Hurley area early Sunday afternoon. The fire was discovered in an area along a road which leads off the main four-lane highway, and force of "about eight or ten men," was reported engaged in fighting it. It was the first one reported this season in the area immediately beyond the city and was quelled before spreading seriously.

J. Van Gonsic Posts 73 Gross; Last Foursome Decides Match

It may have been only an Irishman's dream but the big scoreboard showed Twaalfskill 30, Wiltwyck 28 after eight hours of grueling match play Sunday on Wiltwyck's wind-swept fairways and the biggest upset in Kingston golf history was an accomplished fact.

A Twaalfskill aggregation that was conceded only an outside chance of beating Wiltwyck in the annual series had swept both halves of the match. Up to this year they had never seriously challenged Tommy Danaher's swingers.

But when they got around to it, they did it in spades. They won the opener 39-4, to 23-4, and Sunday clinched the match in the last foursome when Lew and Harry Hymes defeated venerable Bill Ingalls and Lou Kimball, 3-0.

Van Gonsic Hits 73

John Van Gonsic, the Twaalfskill Club president, again set the pace for Alex Gerlach's troupe, firing a sizzling 73 to capture low medal honors for the second straight time.

The Van Gonsic-Ed Remmert tandem repeated its stunning victory over Bill Van Aken and Maurice Davenport, 2-4 to 4, to set the tempo for Twaalfskill's victory.

Ed Modjeska and Hank Boice scored a surprise win over Frank Stone and Dr. George Rifenbary by 3-0. Modjeska and Boice substituted for Judge Schirck and Irv Kauler.

In other key matches, J. Watkinson and Clyde Wenderly, Jr., blanked Herm Gottfried and Jim Dwyer, Walter Fitzgerald and Dan Shufeldt mesmerized Ray LeFevre and Ed Tongue, 2 to 1. Lou Bruhn and Ernie LeFevre of Wiltwyck knocked off Lou Smith

Stranahan and Billows Win; Skee Riegel Has Close Call

Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 31 (AP)—Old man pressure and a wobbly, Bermuda-greened course appeared as major factors to the 128 players in the second round of the National Amateur Golf Tournament today.

Six former champions and practically all of the other highly regarded stars remained in the running.

Fewer than a dozen players involved in the eighty-two first round matches could look back to sub-par performances on the 6,677-yard par 70 Memphis Country Club course.

Frank Stranahan, the muscular man from Toledo, Ohio, who is seeking to add the American Amateur crown to his British and Canadian prizes had the easiest day of any of the hotshots and was paired today against Charles Dudley of Greenville, S. C.

Stranahan eliminated the veteran Frank Stranahan, five-time Metropolitan champion from Flushing, N. Y., 4 and 3. Dudley eased by Hiram Chamberlain of Lookout Mountain, Tenn., 2 and 1.

The colorful defending champion Robert Clark of Edgewater, Colo., dealt with in the second round, eliminated Richard Ewert one-up.

Ward, who won the banner in 1939 and again in 1941, rallied off the home stretch to beat 17-year-old James (Billy) Key of Columbus, Ga., 2 and 1. Key was one-up through fourteen holes.

Bishop, titlist in 1946, dropped Edmund Gravely of Rocky Mount, N. C., 2 and 1. Turnesa outlasted Sam Kirkpatrick, 1 up, and Evans trimmed Herbert Smith of Orlando, Fla., by a single hole.

Chapman had a first round bye. Outstanding rounds were turned in by Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., the Metropolitan champion, and Richard Mayer, the youthful blond ironmaster from Mamaroneck, N. Y.

Billows was two under as he brushed off Stanley Taylor, Jr., of Honolulu, 6 and 5.

Mayer, who is regarded as a "comer," was two under par on the outgoing nine, 33, and finished off Jack Purdum of Webster Groves, Mo., 3 and 2.

Subway Grill Puts Crimp In Newcombe Hopes, 10-2

Grid Drills For K.H.S.

Kingston High School football drills start Wednesday at 9 a. m. at the municipal stadium. Head Coach Bill Burke announced yesterday. All players and candidates are requested to report at the stadium. Uniforms will be passed out to candidates who did not pick them up at the high school.

Subway Grill virtually eliminated Newcombe Oil from the City Softball League playoffs yesterday, 10 to 2, under a barrage of extra base blows at Hasbrouck Park.

B'nal Brith has a 15-11 record in the race for the fourth position in the playoffs and one game scheduled against Subways. Newcombe's 13-12 and have games remaining with Royal Grill and Cord's Hose.

Spada Wins Easily

Tom Spada permitted only five hits and single markers in the first and seventh innings, while the Subways pounded Dick McCollam for 16 safeties.

The winners specialized in clusters of three runs, tripling in the first, fifth and sixth.

Clyde Stalter was the batting hero with a single, double and homer. Al Hunt blasted a triple and single. J. Schatzel, Tommy Maines, F. Qualtieri and J. Hoffman each had two safeties. J. Forman had two of the five Newcombe safeties.

Demon Hanover In Exhibition At Dutchess Fair

Demon Hanover, winner of this year's Hambletonian, the Kentucky Derby of harness racing, will run an exhibition mile at the Dutchess County Fair Wednesday, Frank Cookingham, race secretary, said yesterday.

The Demon, who won the Hambletonian in 2:02, will be at the Rhinebeck track all this week. His owner, Harrison Hoyt, Bethel, Conn., has entered Elaine Sterling, a Hambletonian entry for 1949, in Wednesday's race for two-year-olds. He will drive Elaine and also drive Demon for his exhibition mile.

Beat Pro Drivers

Hoyt, an amateur driver, bested the professionals in piloting Demon to victory in the Hambletonian. He raced the Demon at Rhinebeck last year as a two-year-old and he won the two-year-old trot and pace in 2:16.

If the Demon should cut loose with all his speed, the Rhinebeck track record of 2:06 undoubtedly will fall by the wayside as he clipped off a mile in 2:05 at the Saratoga half-mile oval last week.

Mr. Hoyt, owner of the Hambletonian king, has been racing at Rhinebeck for several years and he consented to bring the Demon to the Dutchess fair track as a special favor to his old friend, Frank Cookingham.

New Golf Ball

Of interest to sportsmen is a new golf ball, claimed to rebound 20 per cent higher when dropped 20 feet than other balls in the same price class. It owes its increased resiliency to the better quality transmitting liquid used in it.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

Saves Low Trump To Enter Dummy

By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY
America's Card Authority
Written for NEA Service

For some time, I have been working on the development of a card show for television, and there are times when it is helpful to have four players, at a table to try out certain ideas. Sometimes we work on set hands, and again we just deal the hands out. A friend of mine, Leslie Evan Roberts of New York City, was a player on one occasion when the hand shown today was dealt out.

Roberts (North) was not sure whether it was a regularly dealt hand, or one that I had handed to him, but he knew that he had

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass
2	Pass	Pass	Pass
Opening	Pass	Pass	Pass

to be very careful if he was going to make the contract. The South player had given an optimistic bid of two spades, but the bid proved to be correct. Roberts made four spades despite the fact that he could have slipped up on the hand easily.

East cashed the king and queen of clubs, and when the jack was led, Roberts trumped with the nine of spades. If he had trumped with the ten, he would have lost the contract. He led the king of spades and East won.

East did not want to give Roberts another club ruff, nor did he

Want to lead into any tenace position so he could with the eight of spades, which Roberts won with the jack. Now you can see how valuable the deuce of spades was. Roberts used it to enter dummy.

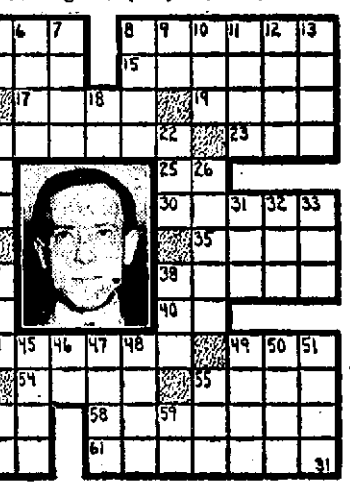

To make the contract, both the heart and diamond finesse had to work, but which one should he take first? The correct play, and the one he selected, was to lead the queen of hearts. West properly refused to cover, and now of course Roberts could not continue with the hearts.

He had to switch to a diamond and finesse his queen, cash the diamond ace, lead the third diamond and ruff it in dummy. Now he could take another heart finesse and make the contract.

Steinman Asks

City, County Represented

Corporation Counsel James Connelly appeared on behalf of the city of Kingston and County Attorney Frederick Stanc was present in the county interest. No statements were filed by either at this time since the hearing was directed in the most part for approval of the location and plans as they might affect navigation interests.

Prior to the hearing it was stated representatives of the American Merchant Marine Institute would appear at the hearing on behalf of navigation interests, ocean going vessels in particular being interested in the location of the bridge and the pier.

Automobile interests were also represented by the New York Automobile Club and there was a considerable delegation from Dutchess county present.

Saugerties Interested

Prior to the hearing the Saugerties Chamber of Commerce notified the Kingston Chamber of Commerce that it would lend its support to the bridge movement in any way it could.

Steinman's Reasons

The proposed bridge, Dr. Steinman pointed out, is needed to supplement the existing bridge crossings of the Hudson river in order to meet present and anticipated requirements. Its under clearance will be 17 feet higher than the Brooklyn Bridge which limits the draft superstructure height of U. S. Naval vessels. If the plans are approved, the bridge will be completed, it is estimated, in 1952.

The bridge will provide a modern three-lane highway for commercial and passenger traffic. It will connect on the east shore to Route 29, leading to Route 9 and the Tappan Zee extension for north and south traffic, and to Routes 44 and 109 for east and west traffic, and also to Rhinecliff Station for local traffic. On the west shore, the bridge will connect with Routes 9W, 28, 32 and 29, and will also give access to the City of Kingston.

The proposed Hudson river crossing is a suspension bridge, with a main span of 1,775 feet. This 1,775-foot span will be flanked by two side spans of 800 feet each. The total length of the suspension bridge between anchorages will be 3,375 feet. The viaduct approaches on shore will bring the total length of the structure to 6,900 feet or 1.1 miles.

Strength and Beauty

The entire design, Dr. Steinman pointed out, is planned not only for maximum strength, safety, utility and durability, but also "to produce a structure of inspiring beauty to do justice to the location."

The indicated location of the proposed bridge, Dr. Steinman stated, gives the best alignment for the crossing, offering the lowest total cost while satisfying the governing objectives. It has been selected as the desired location following surveys, borings, and

Longest Hudson Span

The new bridge will be the longest span over the Hudson river with the exception of the George Washington Bridge and the eighth longest in the world. It will be more than twice the span-length of the Rip Van Winkle Bridge, and more than three times the span length of the Poughkeepsie Railroad Bridge. For the bridges north of New York City, the comparison of span lengths is as follows:

Bear Mountain Bridge 1632 ft.
Mid-Hudson Bridge 1500 ft.
Poughkeepsie R.R. Bridge 548 ft.
Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge 1700 ft.
Rip Van Winkle Bridge 800 ft.
Castleton Bridge 600 ft.

Between the two bridge piers, the clear width normal to the channel will be 1650 feet. The width of the corresponding clear widths for the several Hudson river bridges is as follows:

Bear Mountain Bridge 1582 ft.
Mid-Hudson Bridge 1458 ft.
Poughkeepsie R.R. Bridge 490 ft.
Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge 1650 ft.
Rip Van Winkle Bridge 760 ft.
Castleton Bridge 566 ft.

Leader in Field

Dr. Steinman, long recognized as one of the world's leading bridge designers, has been associated with the construction of many of the bridges on the Hudson river, and New York city environs, either as designer or consultant.

He designed the Henry-Hudson Bridge, the longest hingeless arch and longest plate girder arch span in the world. He was a consultant to the constructors of the George Washington Bridge, the Rip Van Winkle Bridge at Catskill, and the Mid-Hudson Bridge at Poughkeepsie. He was also a consultant on design and cable erection of the Tri-Boro Bridge, and consultant on the erection of the Bronx-Whitestone Bridge. He was designing and consulting engineer for the Marine Parkway Bridge connecting Brooklyn with Rockaway over the Rockaway Inlet. One of his earliest efforts was as special assistant to Gustav Lindenthal, chief engineer in the erection of the Hell Gate Arch Bridge over the East river. He has just received the assignment for planning the reconstruction of the Brooklyn Bridge.

Dr. Steinman has received numerous U. S. and international awards for bridge construction and is especially known for the beauty of his bridge designs. He has won the American Institute Steel Construction Artistic Bridge Awards five times since 1930.

Needling Continues

Berlin, Aug. 31 (AP)—The Russians continued needling Berlin's anti-Communist city government today while Germans awaited word on the progress of Moscow Four-Power talks about Germany. The official Soviet news agency reported a meeting of Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, the Soviet Berlin commandant, with a delegation of "workers" who blasted "war mongering" in western Berlin and promised to keep up demonstrations against the city council. Last week there were two Communist assaults on Berlin's city hall.

Retirement Advice

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be at the examiner's room, second floor, New York Central Railroad station, Kingston on Wednesday, September 8, between the hours of 1 p. m. and 3 p. m. for the purpose of rendering assistance and advice to railroad workers in connection with matters concerning applications for retirement, and answering any inquiries in connection with the Railroad Retirement Act.

Red-Hot Catch

Athens, Eng., Aug. 31 (AP)—Cricketer Denis Plumb fielded a red-hot catch. The ball hit a box of matches in his pocket and started a fire. He had to take off his pants to cool off.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Downward tendencies persisted in the stock market today although a substantial number of issues managed to hang on to small gains.

Changes either way were mainly fractional with a larger swing developing now and then.

Trading was slower than yesterday when only 690,000 shares sold.

Mullins Mfg. Preferred jumped 1 1/4 points to a new high for the year.

The common advanced for a while but later slipped. The company disclosed it would submit a 2-for-1 common split-up plan to stockholders, as well as a proposal to retire 28,775 preferred shares.

Thompson-Starrett Preferred added around 3 at one time and the common improved a trifle.

Lower were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet & General Motors. Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Phelps Dodge, Dow Chemical, du Pont, Owens-Illinois, N. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N. J.), and Gulf Oil.

VFW to Celebrate Golden Jubilee

The 49 annual national encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars being held in St. Louis, Mo., to September 3, marks the beginning of the Golden Jubilee anniversary year for the V.F.W. Commander Shurtz of Joyce Schirick Post, 1386, stated today.

The organization began in September of 1899 for the purpose of bringing much needed relief to Spanish-American War veterans, and has since that time remained primarily a service organization, Commander Shurtz declared.

From its humble beginning a half century ago Commander Shurtz said, the V.F.W. has grown to 10,000 posts and 7,000 Ladies Auxiliaries in all the states, the territories, and in several foreign countries.

The V.F.W. commander attributes the phenomenal growth of the organization to the fact that it is composed only of men who have served their country abroad and in hostile waters.

In addition to serving the needs of servicemen and being an organization where overseas veterans find comradeship, the V.F.W. devotes much time to caring for veterans' widows and orphans, pushing legislation benefiting the veteran, and promoting Americanism.

It strongly advocates national preparedness as a major step toward preventing another war, and is one of the leading fighters against Communism and other ideologies having anti-American precepts.

New Haven President

Boston, Aug. 31 (AP)—Laurence F. Whittemore, a Boston banker and industrialist, was elected president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad today. The 54-year-old president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston said he would take over his new post as head of New England's biggest transportation system tomorrow. Meantime, he will remain with the bank in an advisory capacity until his successor is chosen.

Pipe-Smoking Ladies

London, Aug. 31 (AP)—The ladies, bless 'em, are starting to smoke pipes to help solve Britain's cigarette shortage. Maureen Guerin, a schoolgirl, started a campaign of "pipes for women" with a letter to the Daily Herald. She suggested that "if ladies' pipes were designed to look attractive and dainty, then I believe women would go as crazy about them as they did about slacks."

Sympathy Eggs

Winston Salem, N. C., Aug. 31 (AP)—Police Chief John M. Gold said today much of the jeering and barrage of eggs and tomatoes that has followed Henry A. Wallace across North Carolina has been inspired by the Progressives.

Gold added he thought the hecklers were directing their efforts at their own presidential nominee to gain sympathy for Wallace. "Most of the hecklers were mere boys and young men," Chief Gold said.

'Rugged' Campaign

New York, Aug. 31 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey made it plain today that, however confident he may be of victory in November, he intends to wage what he calls a "rugged" campaign. The Republican presidential nominee flatteringly said he has not been announced yet, but he is reported to be planning to start stumping the country about the middle of September.

W. S. Gray Dead

Greenwich, Conn., Aug. 31 (AP)—William Steele Gray, 82, chairman of the board of W. S. Gray & Co., died here today at the home of his son, William Steele Gray, Jr., of New Britain, Conn. Mr. Gray came to the United States in 1871 and founded the chemical manufacturing company in 1880. He was a resident of Greenwich for about 50 years.

Meeting Ends

Berlin, Aug. 31 (AP)—The big Four meeting on Berlin's east-west problems ended tonight, an hour after the four military governors of Germany met in their first session in five months.

Reds Build Plane

Moscow (AP)—One of the new airplanes shown at the annual Soviet airshow at Tushino airfield near Moscow was a seventy-seat four-motored passenger craft. This plane, which is larger than any of the planes at present in regular service on Soviet civil airlines, is, say Moscow observers, destined to become in the future a common sight on Soviet airports.

A.A.F.C. Gets Most

Chicago (AP)—Of the 70 collegians who formed the All-Star squad for the annual game with the National Football League pro champion here, 33 are under contract to teams in the three-year-old All-American pro Conference. Twenty-six of the players are National Football League rookies. Eleven spurned pro grid offers.

Proclamation

Get Education

Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk today issued a "back to school" proclamation, urging all citizens to encourage and assist high school age boys and girls to complete their high school education and urging public support of educational leaders in their efforts. The proclamation follows:

WHEREAS the people of our city, three years after the successful conclusion of World War 2, continue to face the challenge and opportunity to make the peace we have won the birthday of an era of great human advancement; and

WHEREAS our achievements in peace, even more than our achievements in war, depend in large measure on the care and education we provide all children and youth; and

WHEREAS the completion of a high school education whatever the cost, is the minimum our city should encourage every boy and girl to attain; and

WHEREAS many of our young people, through necessity or because of their eagerness to share in family responsibilities, are continuing to cut short their schooling in the three years since V-J Day;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Oscar V. Newkirk, mayor of the City of Kingston, call upon all citizens to make it their personal business to encourage and enable all high school age boys and girls to enroll in school this year; and I urge our citizens to support our educational leaders in their efforts to provide an education which will prepare our young people for abundant living and responsible citizenship.

Challenges Truman

Rochester, Ind., Aug. 31 (AP)—House Majority Leader Charles A. Halleck (R-Ind.) has challenged President Truman to meet him in debate in Rensselaer, Halleck's home town. Halleck's challenge came in an address to Republican leaders of northern Indiana here last night. He said Mr. Truman has threatened to campaign in every district in the nation which has a Republican member in Congress.

Two Fatally Injured

Xenia, Ill., Aug. 31 (AP)—Two New York residents were fatally injured and three persons were injured yesterday in a head-on automobile-truck crash on U. S. Route 50 near here. The dead are Mrs. Josephine Limandri, 25, of 335 East 58th street, New York city, and Michelle Buffa, 12, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Buffa, of 3311 89th street, Jackson Heights, Long Island, New York.

Arrest Monsignor

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 31 (AP)—Monsignor Zygmunt Kaczynski, 55, a leading spokesman of the Roman Catholic hierarchy in Poland, was arrested today by security police. Four militiamen entered Kaczynski's apartment behind the All Saints Church in Warsaw and took him away. The monsignor's weeping housekeeper said the militiamen searched the priest's files and books but offered no explanation for the arrest.

valuable cattle to bring them to the fair and further improve the general appearance.

A report on the recent fair indicated that it was the largest and most successful one-day fair ever held. The gross receipts amounted to $1,286.41 of which about two-thirds was derived from exhibitors entry fees and one-third from commercial exhibits and the food concession. Mr. Barnes stated that this enables the society to set aside a small reserve to cover any reduction in the premium reimbursement from the state. The Agricultural Society also voted to become a member of the Kingston Chamber of Commerce. They voted to thank the directors of the Chamber for the excellent cooperation in permitting their secretary Albert Kurdt to continue devoting the necessary time to making arrangements for and conducting the fair. Directors of the society present at the meeting were Mr. Barnes, V. A. Barnhart, Pratt Boice, A. H. Chambers, Raymond V. O. DuBois, C. C. Dumond, Jr., Frank G. Elliott, Franklin Kelder, Albert Kurdt, Otto Moltenhauer, Mrs. Williams Powers, John Reza, Mrs. N. Saxe, and Harold V. Story. In addition the following were present, Everice Parsons, Nellie Emmendorf, Edmund R. Bower, William H. Palmer, and Hugh Simpson. The next meeting will be held early in November to borrow the necessary funds to pay the premiums.

Hearing Postponed

Washington, Aug. 31 (AP)—U. S. Commissioner Cyril S. Lawrence today postponed until September 14 a preliminary hearing for Mildred Elizabeth Gillars, who is charged with treason. Miss Gillars is being held in the Federal House of Detention.

High Falls Garage Fire

Fire which broke out Monday afternoon in a pile of used tires and other material in the rear of the Quick Brothers garage at High Falls was brought under control by members of five fire companies after more than one hour. Damage was confined to the rear wall of the garage and to a small shed used for storage of parts, the Quick brothers said today. Estimates of the damage have not been completed, but the garage was able to re-open for business last night, largely through the efforts of the fire companies and other volunteers, the brothers said. Republican Caucus
Woodstock, Aug. 31—A Republican caucus for the Town of Woodstock will be held on Thursday evening, Sept. 2, at 8 o'clock in the Town Hall. Nominations will be made for councilman.

Riding Club Meets
Woodstock, Aug. 31—A special meeting of the Woodstock Riding Club will be held at the home of President Virgil Van Wagoner, Bearsville, on Thursday evening, Sept. 2, at 8 o'clock. Applications for new members will be voted upon and details regarding the forthcoming horse show on September 12 will be discussed. All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Workshop Meeting Is Scheduled Sept. 8th
Woodstock, Aug. 31—The Poetry Workshop group met at the Mitchell Galleries last Friday with Sid Shiebaum presiding. The evening's program included the reading of several short verses from the latest volume of the Negro poet, Langston Hughes; several stanzas by Dyrus Cook of his latest epic poem "My City of God"; two poems by Miss Grenelle, "I Learnt No Wisdom at My Mother's Knee"; "Choice"; and "Stranger Speak to Me of Love." The next meeting of the Workshop will be held at Mitchell Galleries on Sunday, Sept. 6, at 8 o'clock.

Society for New Music
Opens Concert Series
Woodstock, Aug. 31—The first of a series of four concerts was presented by the Woodstock Society for New Music in the Sunday morning session of the Woodstock Art Conference. The second, third and fourth concerts will be presented on Monday evening through Wednesday evening, Sept. 1, at the Woodstock Art Gallery. Four contemporary American composers were represented in the first concert by the Modern Art String Quartet. The composers were Henry Cowell, Forrest Goodenough, Edouard D. Blaise and Arthur Berger. All were present excepting D. Blaise who was represented by Leon Barzin, conductor, National Symphony Orchestra. Those who attended the first session experienced something new Heard in the first concert were Quartet No. 1 by Edouard D. Blaise; Hymn, Choral and Fuguing Tune for String Quartet, Henry Cowell; Quintet for Strings, Horn and Clarinet, Forrest Goodenough; and "Three Pieces for String Quartet" by Arthur Berger.

Father Nolan Makes

Appeal for Bazaar

Woodstock, Aug. 31—The annual bazaar for St. Joan's parish will be held in the Town Hall on Saturday afternoon from 1 until 6 o'clock. The parish includes St. John's R. C. Church, West Hurley, St. Joan of Arc Chapel, Woodstock, and the West Shokan Chapel.

In spite of ill health, the Rev. Philip J. Nolan, pastor, attended Sunday Mass at St. Joan of Arc

Chapel and made a plea to his parishioners for cooperation in making this annual affair a most successful one. He also stated that while his doctor had given him pills what he really needed was "dollar bills." During the past few months, necessary repairs, alterations and refurbishing in the West Hurley and Woodstock churches have cost in the neighborhood of $12,000. The fund for this work lacks some $4,000 and it is Father Nolan's hope that the utmost cooperation on the part of his entire parish in making this year's bazaar the most successful yet held, will enable him to pay off this debt.

Maverick Closes With

It's the Woman Who Pays

Woodstock, Aug. 31—For their last presentation this season, The Maverick Players are suggesting that audiences hiss the villain and cheer the heroine in "It's the Woman Who Pays" which will have its opening performance Wednesday evening at 8:45 and continue through Labor Day, September 6.

The cast includes Katherine Guilford, Tom Reddy, Richard Williams, Kay Dawn, Clifford Kirwin and Bob Guest. To be seen for the first time this season is Miss June Glover, who spent last season on tour with the Vermont Repertory Theatre in the role of nurse in "Romance and Juliet," "Return Engagement" and as Bettina Bolts in "It's the Woman Who Pays." She will lend her ability and singing voice to the Maverick's production.

The entire production was conceived and directed by Bob Guest. The many settings have been created by Roy Graves, assisted by Jay Johnson.

Elephant Deaths

Elephants, contrary to popular legend, don't go to a common elephant graveyard to die. It is estimated that 2000 elephants die in Africa each year. Few of them are found, however, for the forest quickly covers over the remains left by scavengers.

Hopes to Play Football After He Gets Arms

Newark, N. J., Aug. 31 (AP)—A delicate operation today will determine whether 14-year old Carmelo Bova of Italy can use artificial arms in place of the ones a German bomb took away. The little boy, who blew gum bubbles in a hospital bed and said his heart was "going bumpety-bump," placed his faith in Dr. Henry H. Kessler, Newark surgeon, to fix things so maybe someday he can play football. Carmelo lost both arms five years ago when the Germans bombed an evacuee train near his home town of Palmi, south of Naples. The boy's brother was killed in the raid. The foster parents plan for war children brought young Carmelo to this country for the special treatment suggested by Dr. Kessler when he saw the boy in Rome recently. Dr. Kessler, chief surgeon of the Hospital and Home for Crippled Children here, hopes to make loops of muscle in the stumps of Carmelo's arms to provide leverage which will enable him to use artificial limbs. The operation will be in two parts, Dr. Kessler explained. Today's surgery will make two loops of muscle, one for each arm, and another loop will be made in about six weeks. The boy's left arm is amputated at the shoulder and the right arm above the elbow. Carmelo, admittedly a little worried over the operation, was cheered when Dr. Kessler introduced him to a man who had gone through a similar operation successfully.

Out of Adjustment

Smoke which filled the basement and first floor of a dwelling at 43 Garden street about 2:30 a. m. today was caused by a domestic hot water oil burner out of adjustment, Deputy Fire Chief James Brett reported. The house is owned by Joseph Disch and occupied by him and by James Daniels.

Since the early 1890's new wealth valued at nearly five billion dollars has been produced in Canada.
